Training camps will be run during the morning session and focus on skating technique, stickhandling, puck control, passing, receiving, and shooting, followed by fun Small Area Games that implement skills learned in training. Skills sessions will be designed as skill-based progressions, so that players are working in groups of similar ability, and drills are adjusted according to group ability to develop and challenge players from novice to advanced skill-levels. The training camps and games will be coached by the best coaches available, with assistance from Ice Fernz players. Afternoon games will be a round-robin series of short, full-ice games in a competitive and fun environment. For players travelling from out of town and wishing to stay overnight, billeting with local players will be arranged where possible.

Estimated Cost is $60 per round (including lunch), and players are able to play in 1+ rounds depending on their availability.
